A new iconic object for placing coats, hats and bags. It has nine discs in three different sizes. Discs are fitted to the stand using turned wooden dowels.

The nine discs in three different sizes are fitted to the stand using turned wooden dowels. Each component in the wooden version is turned manually on a lathe, showcasing the skill of Kharadi, an Indian wood turning community and supports their local skills. The Trumpet Coatstand is flat packed for ease of labor and transportation. The raw material from the aluminium version is from old car components and other aluminum waste that is collected through the workshop participation in the sustainable program Susbiz India.

The workshop has actively participated in the fair trade program Susbiz India (www.susbizindia.org), externally managed and audited by the Danish federation of small and medium-sized enterprises.
